STATE SENATE GETS BILL TO CURB LOBBIES

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS AND REGISTRATION FEES REQUIRED

Lansing, Feb. 20 (AP)—A bill regulating lobbying was passed by the House 70 to 13 today and sent to the Senate after a last attempt to amend it failed.

The administration-sponsored measure requires lobbyists to register their name and affiliations and pay a $5 registration fee. Lobbyists are required to keep detailed expense accounts and a statement of their compensation for six years.

Rep. Thomas J. Whinery, Grand Rapids Republican, sought to amend the bill by defining the word "detailed" as meaning "the keeping of daily totals of meals, refreshments, transportation, and miscellaneous."

Overcoat Miscellaneous

The change was attacked successfully by Rep. Albert W. Dimmers, Jr., sponsor of the bill, and others.

"Say a lobbyist bought me an overcoat," asked Rep. Homer L. Bauer, Charlotte Republican, "where would he list that, Mr. Whinery?"

"Under miscellaneous," Whinery said.

"That's what I thought," said Bauer. "That miscellaneous column would mean we might as well do away with the bill entirely. They can throw anything they want to into it."

Rep. John D. Kruse, Manistee Republican, was recorded as not voting, but later made a statement that his vote was favorable.

The House put itself in position for votes at Monday evening's session on measures to repeal the prohibition of fish spearing in Houghton Lake and removing the limitation on appropriation to counties for historical collections.

The House and Senate agreed to a conference committee's compromise of a dispute between the chambers on a proposed constitutional amendment permitting corporations to hold property other than that occupied by the corporation.

Colleges Have Deficits

The proposal will appear on the ballot as an amendment to permit corporations to hold property in cities and villages of 5,000 or more population for 30 years. The original proposal was to permit such holding in perpetuity to encourage insurance companies to build houses for rental.

The measure will go on the April 7 ballot.

The Senate approved a bill eliminating the "secret" primary ballot and another appropriating $11,335,590 for institutional and departmental deficits.

Major items include $1,250,000 for the University of Michigan, $2,526,290 for Michigan State College, $2,300,000 for direct relief, $2,800,000 for aid to dependent children and $1,250,000 for veterans' homestead exemptions.

Senators Robert J. Hamilton, Battle Creek, James C. Quinlan, Grand Rapids, and John A. Wright, Flint, voted against the measures, contending the colleges were guilty of bad management in incurring those deficits and that the legislature must take drastic action to stop deficits.

Senator Otto W. Bishop, Alpena, and Senator Harry F. Hittle, East Lansing, defended the college requests, asserting they result from increased veterans' enrollment.

The only alternative, Hittle declared, was to cut off the enrollment of veterans and that he said the entire Senate would condemn.

Capitol Political Storms Fail To Worry President

BY WILLIAM R. SPEAR

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Wind-driven snow ticked against the windows behind his deck and Capital Hill was a cold front too, but President Truman's smile was warm and confident today as he told of taking his regular morning walk and showed equal unconcern over the storms of Congress.

Lilienthal? The president told his news conference he is confident David E. Lilienthal will be confirmed as atomic energy chairman, he still is behind his nominee 100 percent.

Would the proposed budget cuts hamper his foreign policy? The cut has by no means developed yet, Mr. Truman noted, and if it develops, then he will comment.

No Funds For OPA?

What about the OPA being forced out of business Friday unless the Senate restores funds vetoed by the house? We have not yet come to the condition where the OPA is going to die, the chief executive observed. But if OPA doesn't get the funds? We will cross that bridge when we get to it.

The president, in his message on the second war powers act, asked continuance of the export controls due to die March 31 but Congress has done nothing about it. Does he plan another message? No. Congress has been working on other things, Mr. Truman remarked, and probably will take care of the export controls when its gets around to it.

Any comment on the bill to investigate the executive set-up looking toward reorganization and economy? If it gets to his desk he will comment, and not until then.

Draft Act Studied

What about the controversy over whether to reduce taxes before reducing the debt of vice versa? The chief executive said he prefers not to comment now but will do so at the proper time in no uncertain terms. He already is on record against the Republican tax cut plan.

Then there were three military questions which brought these replies:

1. The question whether to ask continuance of the draft act, due to expire March 31, still is under consideration.

2. The bill for unifying the armed forces will be ready for Congress within a short time.

3. The recommendations on universal training will be some time yet in coming. Yes indeed, Mr. Truman declared, he still is for universal training—has been since 1905—he went in for it himself at the age of 21 when he joined the National Guard.

JUNE, 1948, SET TO FREE INDIA

New Viceroy Appointed To Wind Up 200 Years Of British Rule

BY WILLIAM B. KING

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—The British today for the first time set a definite date—June, 1948—for getting out of India and designated a great grandson of the first empress of India to liquidate almost 200 years of rule over that rich subcontinent of 400,000,000 people.

Prime Minister Attlee, in a historic statement to a House of Commons listening in strained silence, indicated that unless quarreling Moslems and Hindus resolve their differences over writing a central charter for Indian independence by next year's deadline the British may turn control over to provincial governments. In a splintered India, New Delhi dispatches said this might mean the Moslems would win a measure of pakistan—self-rule.

He announced the appointment of Admiral Lord Mountbatten, whose mother was a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, to succeed Field Marshal Lord Wavell as viceroy in March. Despite continued prodding by opposition leader Winston Churchill and cries of "answer!" from conservative benches Attlee refused to explain why Wavell was being recalled.

An informed source said the "whole purpose" of Attlee's statement was to "produce agreement" between Moslems and Hindus, who have refused to work together in drafting a constitution fo independence.

The specific date was set, the source added, because "so long as British control continues on an indefinite basis, prospects of encouraging Indian parties to come together is prejudiced."

WAR DEPARTMENT TAKES SILVERWARE — Here's part of the Hoehnzollern silverware which the War Department in Washington has taken from the 175th army regiment. The regiment captured it at the Elbe River in Germany and brought it back to Baltimore as war booty. The silver will be placed in the National Gallery of Art pending a War Department decision whether the regiment can keep it as a trophy. There are seven tons of the silver, valued as high as $800,000. (NEA Telephoto.)

Grand Juror Winds Up Gambling Ring In Macomb County

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Feb. 20 (AP)—This city's so-called "reform" police commissioner and an associate pleaded guilty to gambling charges today, concluding perhaps the most eventful chapter in the Macomb county grand jury's ten-month history.

In less than 24 hours Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke, the one-man grand juror:

1. Indicted Lawrence A. Oehmke, elected Mt. Clemens police commissioner in 1945, on charges of operating slot machines in the Olympia Annex before taking office.

2. Named Dan J. Lesperance on similar charges. Lesperance is a nephew of Arthur P. Sauve, reputed "slot machine king" of Macomb county who also is under indictment by the jury.

3. Imposed fines and costs totaling $26,000 on Archie Lapointe and Donald Peltier, the heaviest ever assessed by the grand jury.

4. Sent Laurence A. Lyon, former head of the state police uniformed division, and Leslie V. Maycock, former assistant commander of the Detroit state police post, to prison on conspiracy charges.

The former state police officers were ordered to prison Wednesday, Lyon for three and a half to five years and Maycock for nine months to five years.

Judge Dehnke followed up today by accepting guilty pleas from Oehmke and Lesperance. He released them on their own recognizance for sentencing later.

Oehmke rode into office with a city commission and mayor pledged to oust Police Chief Arthur I. Rosso, who died recently. Later, however, only the mayor, Albert A. Wagner, voted for Rosso's removal.

Lapointe, wholesale beer distributor, and Peltier, bowling alley proprietor, were ordered to pay $1,000 fine and $12,000 costs each.. They previously had pleaded guilty to charges of operating the Brunswick, a bookie establishment.

Judge Dehnke said the receipts would be divided between the state police and Macomb county general funds. They boosted total fines and costs imposed by the grand jury to $62,175, more than twice the amount appropriated for its operations.

Sigler Signs Bill To Give Lawmakers Lansing Pin Money

Lansing, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Bishop bill granting members of the legislature up to $7.50 a day for their living expenses was signed into law by Governor Sigler today.

Sigler had recommended that the legislators' salaries be increased to eliminate excuses for accepting bribes, and he indicated he viewed this bill in the same light.

"I am going to sign it," he declared, "and see what the results are; see if it accomplishes the things we have in mind."

The law, effective immediately, provides payment for "actual expenses incurred for rooms and meals" during the session or while legislators are away from home in discharge of official duties.

Legislators expect Auditor General Murl K. Aten may refuse to pay the expenses until the law has been tested in court.

INDUSTRIAL EARNINGS UP

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The national industrial conference board disclosed today that average hourly earnings in December among industrial workers in 25 manufacturing industries was $1.247, highest ever recorded, and 12.2 percent above the wartime peak of June, 1945, when the average hourly earning was $1.111.

GUNS WIPE OUT FAMILY TERROR

Milwaukee Street Car Slayer Trapped By Chicago Police

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP) — Weeks of secret terror for a Chicago family was ended today with the machine gun killing by police of Elmer Henry Pierce, crazed "street car" slayer and robber.

Pierce, accused of murdering his niece Jan. 7 in a wild burst of gunfire on a crowded Milwaukee street car and of several holdups and the robbery-shooting of a taxi driver in Chicago, was killed last night when he walked into a police ambush and reached for his pistol.

The man who "put the finger" on Pierce was the man whose family the 37 year old fugitive and ex-convict had terrorized — Roy Panknin, 32, a slight, bespectacled furnace salesman.

Pierce, whom police described as a "dangerous maniac," telephoned Panknin last night, demanding to see him. Panknin arranged a near-midnight meeting at an elevated train station in suburban Westchester, notified police and pointed out the fugitive to the officers when he stepped from the nearly deserted station.

Detective Joseph Mc Cabe, flanked by eight other policemen, called on Pierce to surrender and cut him down with 16 machine gun slugs when the fugitive reached in his overcoat pocket for his loaded pistol.

Panknin disclosed that because of Pierce's threats he had secreted his wife and two small children in the home of a sister at Ripon, Wis., stored his furniture, and moved into the rear quarters of his shop in suburban Wheaton.

HOUSE SLICES SPENDING BY 239-159 VOTE

ECONOMY ASSURES 20 PERCENT CUT IN INCOME TAX

BY FRANCIS M. LeMAY

Washington, Feb. 20. (AP)—The Republican-controlled House voted tonight to try to hold spending in the next fiscal year to $31,500,000,000, where President Truman had set $37,500,000,000 as rock bottom.

The $6,000,000,000 slash recommended by the Senate - House budget committee, calling for cuts in Army and Navy as well as other funds, sailed through on a roll-call vote of 239 to 159 which generally followed party lines.

Twelve Democrats joined 227 Republicans in support of the slash. It was opposed by 157 Democrats, Rep. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) and Rep. Marcantonio (AL-N. Y.).

Senate Less Drastic

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the House ways and means committee declared the economy would assure a 20 per cent cut in individual income taxes.

However, the issue now moves to the Senate, where a majority of Republicans favor a $4,500,000,000 budget slash to protect Army and Navy funds, instead of the $6,000,000,000 cut recommended by the Senate-House budget committee.

Bitter debate pivoted on the question whether such a slash would cripple the Army and Navy and what the effects would be on world peace—and the 1948 election.

Army and Navy officials have protested that a cut of $1,750,000,000 in their funds, as reportedly planned, would endanger national security. Mr. Truman asked $11,200,000,000 for the two services.

The president, at his news conference, declined to comment on

CABBIES ADMIT NEGRO LYNCHING

Greenville, S. C. Sheriff Hunts Trigger Man In Jail Seizure

Greenville, S. C., Feb. 20 (AP)—Sheriff R. H. Bearden said today he had obtained signed admissions from eleven Greenville taxi drivers to taking part in Monday's lynching of a 24 year old Negro near here, but was pushing his investigation in the hope of rounding up other possible suspects.

Bearden did not disclose the names of the taxi drivers or the details of their statements. He said another man was being questioned closely to determine whether he was the "trigger man," alleged to have fired a fatal shotgun charge into the head of Willie Earle a short time after the latter had been taken from the nearby Pickens county jail and brought into Greenville county.

In the intensive investigation launched when Earle's still warm body was found beside a country road, showing five stab wounds besides the gunshot hole, Bearden was assisted by state constables and highway patrolmen, county and city officers, and agents of the federal bureau of investigation.

Earle was seized in the Pickens jail by an armed but unmasked band estimated by Jailer Ed Gilstrap to number 25 men. The Negro had been arrested as a suspect in the fatal stabbing and robbery of T. W. Brown, a Greenville taxi driver.

Agreement Averts Oil Workers Strike In Western States

Los Angeles, Feb. 20 (AP)—A strike that threatened paralysis of transportation and industry in five western states was averted today by a tentative wage agreement between the CIO Oil Workers' Union and Standard Oil Company of California.

The agreement, which adds 10 cents an hour to basic pay scales, plus a provisional living allowance of $17.50 a month retroactive to Jan. 1, is subject to the vote of 22,000 workers in California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Nevada.

RUSSIA ECONOMIZES

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Moscow radio said tonight that Russia's 1947 military expenditures would be $13,400,000,000—a decrease of $1,120,000,000 from the 1946 figure.

Court Test Sought For Tax Diversion; Schools Get Money

Lansing, Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Sigler disclosed today he seeks a prompt court test of the sales tax diversion amendment with a view to speeding up payments under its terms to local government and the state's solution of the resulting fiscal problems.

"I am debating now a way of going ahead and making a distribution of the sales tax portion of the amendment," Sigler said, referring to that part of the amendment which sends one-cent of the sales tax equally to cities and school districts. He indicated thus he would still withhold payment of the "frozen" school aid grant in the amendment.

The governor's remarks followed a proposal, later withdrawn, by Rep. Sherman L. Loupee, Dowagiac Republican, that the legislature recess for three weeks "because we're not getting anywhere."

"It is true we don't know where we stand in view of the sales tax diversion amendment," said Rep. John P. Espie, chairman of the ways and means committee, "but there is a lot of work we can do. My committee is conducting daily hearings in an effort to get the budget set up until we can get some court determination of our status under the diversion."

"That was an excellent speech in support of me," said Loupee. "Of course we don't know where we are going. We have no real leadership. An adjournment for three weeks would draw the public's attention to the need for leadership."

"I can't agree to a recess," said Rep. Elton R. Eaton, chairman of the taxation committee. "We should stay here and do what we can.

"Perhaps we should ask the supreme court for a ruling in this amendment."

Sigler told newsmen he sought a legal formula which would permit a quick court test of questions involving the amendment so that the controversy could be "crystalized" to the benefit of both the state and the "recipients" of the diversion.

"I want something to happen so we can get started," he said.

NEW BLIZZARDS SWEEP BRITAIN

Ice Floes Menace Ships In North Sea; Oslo Blacks Out

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—New blizzards swept coal-starved England today and RAF planes and a government research ship kept an eye on ice floes in the North Sea where shipping was threatened.

Waters of the North Sea were two degrees below freezing, a ministry of agriculture ship reported and the ministry said "conditions in the North Sea are unprecedented."

Without exception, continental countries reported sub-normal temperatures. Copenhagen reported some 200 ships locked in frozen Scandinavian waters and a Swedish naval officer said "the world's best icebreakers could not break the ice surrounding our country."

Fresh snowfalls blocked railways in North Central England.

There appeared little hope of restoring power to the rest of British industry for at least another 10 days, officials said. But there was no change in the plan for factories in the industrial midlands to resume partial operations on Monday.

Oslo's 400,000 inhabitants in Norway were back under wartime electricity restrictions.

A tornado-like blizzard struck Yugoslavia, paralyzing traffic with bullet-like pellets of sleet for 24 hours. Several deaths were reported.

Restrictions Off On Brewer Grains

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—The agriculture department announced today that beginning March 1 brewers may use unlimited quantities of grain and grain products other than wheat and rice and products of these two grains.

Since December 1, the use of grains such as corn, barley and other grain and grain products (except wheat and rice and their products) has been limited to the quantities used in the corresponding quoted periods beginning in 1945.

Tiniest Radio Yet Comes Out In Week

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 20. (AP)—Sentinel Radio corporation announced today it will put into production next week the "Treasure Chest" which, the company said, is the "tiniest radio yet offered to the trade."

The new instrument measures four inches high, four deep, and eight wide, operates five tubes on AC, DC, or battery power, and will be available in a variety of two-tone colors, the company added. Production is expected to reach 100,000 this year, a Sentinel representative said.

Florida Frost Loss Set At $50,000,000

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—The agriculture department estimated today that heavy freezes in Florida during the first half of the month destroyed about 11,000,000 boxes of citrus friuts as well as large amounts of winter vegetables.

The department gave no estimate of the monetary value of the losses, but the weather bureau has estimated $50,000,000.

MOSCOW MAKES TREATY

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Tass News Agency reported from Moscow tonight that Russia and Romania had concluded a treaty on trade and shipping. The report said Romania would supply oil, building materials and other commodities in exchange for raw materials to be used in iron, steel and textile industries.

ARMY REVAMPS COURT MARTIAL

Enlisted Man May Serve On Tribunal; Congress Action Required

BY ELTON C. FAY

Washington, Feb. 20. (AP)—The Army moved tonight to permit GI's to sit on courts martial and to make other reforms in its system of military justice, which has been a target of criticism.

Another change will end the mandatory sentence of death or life imprisonment for rape.

Secretary of War Patterson announced that the Army had accepted most of the recommendations made by a committee of the American Bar Association and the House military committee.

However, a majority of the changes cannot go into effect immediately because Congress must amend the articles of war.

Patterson said Secretary of the Navy Forrestal will send the results of a similar study in the Navy to the congressional armed forces committees. They thus will have opportunity to coordinate action on the two services.

Only officers now may serve on courts martial. The amendment accepted by the war department would allow a commander to appoint enlisted men of higher rank than the accused.

The House committee reported that between Pearl Harbor and Feb. 22, 1946, 72 men were executed for murder, 51 for rape, 18 for murder and rape, and one for desertion.

Detroit Landlords Cited For Gouging

Detroit, Feb. 20. (AP)—Nine Detroit landlords and apartment caretakers were cited by a federal grand jury today on charges that they gouged tenants for excessive rents and bonuses as high as $1,500.

Indictments were returned against four persons while the others were named in criminal informations.

Joseph C. Murphy, assistant U. S. attorney, said an overseas war veteran was forced to pay a $1,500 bonus for a six room apartment, only half of which was made available to his family.

Girrbach Promotes 1955 Celebration Of Locks Centennial

Lansing, Feb. 20. (AP)—Senator George Girrbach, Sault Ste. Marie Republican, today proposed the creation of a commission to plan a centennial celebration in 1955 of the building of the world famous Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

Girrbach filed a bill for introduction in the Senate, providing for a commission of seven members to be appointed by the governor which would serve "without compensation or expense allowance."

MILE SQUARE AREA BLASTED BY HOLOCAUST

CITY FEELS JOLT; VICTIMS BLOWN INTO GROUND

Los Angeles, Feb. 20. (AP)—A tremendous explosion blasted a one-story brick building into smoking rubble today, killing at least 15 persons, jolting the entire downtown district and breaking windows in houses and office buildings 70 blocks away. More than 100 were injured.

Shortly after the explosion, which leveled the O'Connor electro-plating plant, Assistant Police Chief Joseph Reed told reporters he feared the death list might range from 30 to 75, but by nightfall, bulldozer, power shovel, and other workers, probing the debris, could find but 15 bodies.

300 Houses Damaged

J. J. O'Connor, head of the electro-plating firm, told reporters late today:

"We were doing something for the government. You can see what happened."

He declined to amplify the statement, but said that a war department representative from San Francisco was investigating.

The reverberating explosion, which also demolished three nearby residences, was followed by a fierce fire. In a mile-square area 300 houses were damaged in what police described as the worst Southern California disaster since the earthquake of March 10, 1933, when more than 130 were killed.

Earl H. Richardson, chief of the city fire prevention bureau, attributed the explosion to chemicals in the plant.

Richardson said the plant, when inspected only two weeks ago, was found to be practically free of gas hazards. At that time, he said, the company was told to have a small fire extinguisher recharged. He theorized that the firm's large supply of acid caused the blast.

Families Trapped

The devastating explosion, which occurred at 9:45 a. m. (at 922 East Pico street), was in an area largely devoted to industry which is only a mile from the Los Angeles civic center. Elevators in some buildings several blocks away were jammed in their shafts by the force of the blast.

As a blue-black column of smoke soared hundreds of feet in the air, inhabitants of nearby houses stumbled out of their collapsed dwellings, some with blood streaming from them, screaming for help for members of their families trapped inside.

William Tynn, battalion fire chief who saw the explosion, said the district "seemed to go up in smoke similar to the pictures we've seen of the atomic bomb explosions."

Fifteen fire companies and 500 police officers converged on the Council Surprised By Sudden Resurrection Of Ore Dock Question

Supposedly buried for all time with the signing of a contract of sale between the city council and the C & S Construction company of Escanaba, the subject of the St. Paul property ore docks Nos. 1 and 3 came up before the city council again last night at their regular meeting in the city hall chambers.

Jack Erickson, representing the C & S company, appeared before the council to request the council's approval of resale of the property (caps, stringers, pilings, et al) to a group headed by Luke A. Furton, Carl Steinbrecker and Walter Mueller of Menominee, Mich.

Councilmen Gasman, Wickman and Logan expressed surprise at this development, and questioned the good faith of the C & S Construction company in its lengthy negotiations with the city, claiming that during those negotiations the C & S company had stressed the local benefits to be derived from sale of the pilings, et al, to a local company, with especial emphasis on the hiring of local labor, sale of sawed lumber to local markets for local buildings.

Erickson maintained that the company had acted in good faith, and that the conditions had changed considerably since the question was first opened. He explained that on Feb. 11, the day after the special council meeting at which a tentative sale arrangement had been agreed to, the C & S Construction company had agreed to sell to the Menominee group.

Mayor Coon defended the action of the company, declaring he could see no sign of bad faith in the negotiations or in the fact of re-sale, that the appearance of Erickson before the city council was, in fact, an indication of a gentlemanly consideration on the part of the C&S company, for the re-sale could have been accomplished to all purposes without violating the agreement between the company and the city.

Recovered from their surprise, Councilmen Wickman, Logan, and Gasman agreed that the resale was legitimate enough and that they could see nothing wrong with it.

The council withheld approval of the resale until it could be given some guarantee that the lumber from the docks would be offered for sale locally. City Manager A. V. Aronson was instructed to contact local lumber dealers and contractors for an estimate of their probable needs.

The request of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clabaugh for permission to enlarge a store front across from Rose Park, which was approved at the last regular meeting subject to inspection and approval by the City Manager Aronson, was brought up and given final approval by the council, on a motion by Logan, supported by Gasman.

John E. Nystrom, 1125 Lake Shore drive, appeared before the council to suggest that some place be provided for roller skating. He stressed the desire of Escanaba youngsters for a good roller rink, pointing out that some young Escanabans were driving to Powers to skate. The council instructed City Manager Aronson to consult with George Grenholm, City Recreation Director, upon the possibility of establishing a roller rink, and to present the findings to the council.

Consideration of a permit for enlarging a building at 1015 Washington avenue was delayed for investigation.

The council also:

Acknowledged receipt of a letter from the Pioneer Aviation company requesting renewal of the company's lease of the city airport for an other year.

Accepted a report from Laramore and Douglass, Inc., on the city's steam heating utility.

Received and tabled for further consideration a report by City Clerk Carl E. Anderson on the advisory vote taken in the Feb. 17 elections on Daylight Savings Time.

Instructed Manager Aronson to come to some working agreement with Tim Curran, city employe, who prefers not to come under the Social Security taxing plan.

Agreed to postpone any consideration of change in the zoning ordinance.

Accepted the monthly reports of H. E. Ranguette, justice of the peace, and of the city police department.

Also, City Manager Aronson presented to the council a report on study of water softening systems, and notified them of the fact that the Chenoweth property next to the city hall was for sale.

PENSION DOPE GIVEN RAILS

Local Railroad Men And Wives Hear Bickford On New Amendments

Before a mass meeting of Escanaba and Gladstone railroad men and their wives, employes of the C&NW, the Soo Line and the E&LS, who were jammed into the courthouse chambers last night, E. P. Bickford of Alexandria, Va., Labor Relations officer of the U. S. Railroad Retirement Board, presented entertainment as well as information upon the Crosser amendments to the National Railroad Retirement Act, which amendments into into effect Jan. 1, 1947.

Introduced by Victor Nelson, 321 North 13th street, secretary of Lodge 613, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, who was responsible for bringing him here, Bickford sketched the history of the Railroad Retirement Act, and the necessity for the Recent Crosser amendments.

With the Railroad Retirement Board since its establishment in 1937, and associated with the propect even prior to that, Bickford was also at one time a brakeman and conductor on the Boston and Maine railroad, and hence able to speak both authoritatively and vernacularly to railroad men.

Considerable dissatisfaction among local railroad men was dissipated in the hour-long question period at the end of the talk.

Bickford, one of the top labor relations men of the Railroad Retirement Board, and a smooth and polished speaker, speaks tonight at the Edgewater Beach hotel before a group of airline pilots who are seeking a retirement set-up. Monday he is scheduled to appear in Memphis.

Clothes Blown Off

Norman Scott, a former sailor of Alhambra, Calif., said that when he reached the wrecked building "hands and feet were sticking out of piles of brick all around."

"I saw a switchboard operator still sitting in her swivel chair but I was carrying someone else out at the time and don't know if she was alive or dead."

The woman Scott saw apparently was Mrs. Edna Aukerman, a telephone operator, who was pinned beneath her switchboard but escaped serious injury.

People were screaming and moaning," related Scott. "I saw one woman with all her clothes burned or blown off and a man who had been cut in two. One young man was crawing from the building, crying that his father was dead."

Robert Gottas, a plater who was near the front of the plant, was injured but was able to relate: "At first I thought I was electrocuted, then the roof fell in and I thought it was an earthquake. The next thing I knew people were trying to extricate me from the roof, which had collapsed. My head was sticking clear though it."

Hours after the explosion workers still worked in the debris, pulling down battered brick walls and searching for victims.

It was estimated by police officials that 500 persons were made homeless by the blast because of damage to many frame houses and flat buildings in the area. However Al D. Church, senior inspector for the building safety department, said only about a dozen buildings would have to be demolished and that the remainder could be repaired.

The Electro-Plating plant, with only the shell of a brick-wall corner left standing, had a frontage of 150 feet on Pico boulevard and extended back approximately 130 feet.

Hundreds of spectators flocked to the area, hindering the work of rescuers, and police patrols were called into the area because of reports of looting.

Wheat Prices Hit New Highs; Hogs $27.50 A Hundred

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP) — Wheat hit a 27-year high in a turbulent market on the Board of Trade today. Top was $2.38½ a bushel for March wheat.

Prices were up more than 8 cents a bushel at one time but plunged under a heavy selling wave before the close. Final quotations were ½ cent lower to 1 cent higher, March $2.32¼. Brokers said turnover was the largest since at least July 5, 1944.

Live hogs equalled the highest price in history at $27.50 a hundred pounds in active trading at union stockyards. The record was established Oct. 15, immediately after end of price controls, and was matched the next day. Scarce supplies in relation to heavy demand created today's high market.

Helicopters Save Fishermen Adrift On Lake Erie Floe

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP) — Helicopters provided a dramatic rescue today for three fishermen adrift on an ice flow in Lake Erie.

The men were Russell Teal, 28, his brother, Vincent, 18, and Regional Thornton, 28, all of Crystal Beach, Ont.

They were spotted adift on the huge floe by other fishermen, who reported their predicament to provincial police. The U. S. Coast Guard station here dispatched a tug and requested the Bell Aircraft Corporation to send a helicopter.

Three helicopters were flown to the scene within two hours after the trio had become stranded.

Law-Making Boston Bachelors Propose Bonuses For Babies

Boston, Feb. 20 (AP) — Bonuses for babies—to rich families and poor alike—were recommended today by two bachelor state legislators from Boston, who said it was the "answer" to the rising divorce rate and falling birth rate.

Calling for an estimated state expenditure of $3,000,000 - a - month, their plan provides for monthly "bonuses" of $8 to every family with one child under 16, $15 for two children, $21 for three, and $5 more for each additional child.

Navy Reserve Units Assigned Michigan; One In Marquette

Lansing, Feb. 20 (AP)—Plans for a dual federal-state naval force in Michigan which will, at the same time, comprise a state naval militia and the organized naval reserve were announced by Governor Sigler today.

Signer named Capt. Leon J. Jacobi, senior reserve naval officer of the Michigan naval militia of approximately 6,000 men. Capt. Jacobi is commander of the naval reserve of 3,600 men in Detroit.

The governor said that under the plan, Michigan obtains an active naval force fully equipped by the federal government at practically no expense to the state. It will be subject to the governor's orders and a "secondary defense" to the Michigan National Guard.

He said he would appoint the officers of the naval reserve in Michigan to the same posts in the naval militia. Units will be set at Marquette and Benton Harbor in addition to Detroit.

Jean Dickenson Versatile In Town Hall Concert

The hearts of Town Hall members and citizens of Escanaba and many neighboring towns were transported from the muck of reality last night by Jean Dickenson, coloratura soprano.

First on the program offered by the star of the "American Album of Familiar Music" was "Over Hill, Over Dale" by Thomas Cooke. Of moderate tempo and offering the proper opening it was well performed and Accompanist Robert McDonald proved himself an able pianist.

"Since From My Dear" by Henry Purcell was followed by Samuel Arnold's "Hist, Hist".

With Adam's version of Mozart's "Theme and Variations", Miss Dickenson exhibited her qualifications as Metropolitan star and her fluency and ease with French. "LaDanza, a tarantella by Rossini, was exceptionally well-done in the sprightly Neopolitan manner.

After a fine performance of Carl Eckert's fanciful "Swiss Echo Song", the young coloratura sang, from Auber's opera, "Manon Lescaut", (a tale of a young girl who was blessed with more beauty than morals), the delightful "Laughing Song." Though the foreign lyrics may have been a little varied her singing was very good.

The third part of the programme was Miss Dickenson's excellent rendition of the "Shadow Song" or "Ombria Leggiera" from Myerbeer's "Dinorah'. In the second act of the opera the heroine, half-demented by the sudden disappearance of her lover, roams about singing to her shadow.

A series of lighter numbers, well sung, followed. Exemplifying the versatility and accomplishments of the "Nightingale of the Airwaves" the "Jota" of the Spanish composer DeFalla and "Al Amour" by Fernando Obradors appealed to the applauding audience. Igor Stavinsky's "Pastorale" and his lively lullaby, "Tilimbom", was well received by the audience. Though the music of this Russian composer is repudiated in some music circles, Miss Dickenson easily convinced her listeners that there was beauty in a shepherd's song and a lullaby.

The last portion of the program began with Miss Dickenson's recognition of the artistry of the present day composers. "Ann Street" by Charles Ives and one of Aaron Copeland's "Songs", though not too well received by those present, was unique and entertaining.

"A Little China Figure" by Franco Leoni won the hearts of the audience. Rudolph Gruen's "Indian Lullaby" seemed especially fitting for her appearance in Escanaba. Stephen Foster's spirited "Soiree Polka" closed the program.

Miss Dickenson, as encores, sang "My Johann" by Edvard Greig, the Scottish ballad, "My Laddie" and lastly a beautiful rendition of Schubert's "Ave Maria".

Earlier in the afternoon, for a group of over 100 patients at Pinecrest Sanatorium in Powers, the lovely and charming Miss Dickenson had sung many of the lighter numbers which she offered in concert last night: Rossini's "La-Danza", "My Johann" by Greig, "My Laddie", the "Soiree Polka" and Schuberts 'Ave Maria." She also sang the lively "Clavelitos", prefacing it with, "It's a little song about a Spanish-Mexican girl trying to sell all her flowers. It doesn't say much, but is lots of fun."

Miss Dickenson was accompanied by Robert McDonald, who, for the three years, has appeared with her in concert recitals throughout the United States.

Miss Dickenson, who is under the management of the concert division of the National Artists and Concert Corporation, was brought to Escanaba by Town Hall.

Eagles To Initiate Gladstone Class Tuesday, March 11

The March class-of-the-month which will be initiated Tuesday evening, March 11, at the Escanaba Eagles clubrooms will be known as the "Gladstone Class," according to an announcement by Worthy President Arthur Servant, and will be dedicated to all Eagle members from Gladstone and the eastern part of the county.

Steering committee Chairman John DeChantal has selected a special committee from Gladstone to assist him in making this another banner class for the Aerie.

The Aerie went over the top for the year with the initiation of the largest Anniversary class in history on February 9. The class, in addition to commemorating the 49th anniversary of the founding of the Order, also paid tribute to the Aerie trustees. The trustees, in response to the honors accorded them, promised the membership that a fish fry will be given every Friday night.

Lumber Prices To Drop

A DROP in lumber prices by fall and a corresponding decrease in the cost of constructing new homes was predicted by delegates at the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's association convention this week in Milwaukee.

This is the best news that has reached the building industry in many months, offering new hope to the thousands of Americans who desire to build new homes.

The effect of current high prices in home construction is reflected by the fact that last year there were 135,000 fewer homes built in the United States than for the industry's yearly average for the last 25 years. This is the record at a time when housing shortages constitute the most pressing domestic problem of the day.

Dealers predict that prices will drop this year to about 30 per cent to 40 per cent above pre-war levels. For that reason dealers will necessarily operate on rather small inventories to avoid being caught in a squeeze with the falling market.

It is conceivable, of course, that lumber prices and building costs actually will drop more rapidly than is now indicated. In the face of a prospective decline in costs, builders will be wary and will be reluctant to build when they know that by waiting several months, they can save considerably in cost. In such an event prices probably would drop faster than is now predicted.

Teaching Labor Relations

ONE of the interesting projects undertaken by the adult education school in Escanaba this year is the course in labor-management relations, which is bringing workers and employers together for an open discussion of their mutual problems.

Personnel management has assumed an important role in industry; in fact, it has become one of the new professions. Colleges and universities are offering courses in labor relations. Incidentally, the University of Michigan has provided the outlines and other materials that are being used by the adult education class here.

Considerable success in this field of education has been achieved by the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell university, Ithaca. The school, begun as a state-sponsored experiment in industrial relations, has proved so popular that the faculty recently has been increased from three to 15 professors.

The Ithaca school was established by the 1944 state legislature, and in addition to its graduate, undergraduate and extension instruction, it conducts a research and information service in labor-management relations for the state. Educational programs of this type are important because only as the representatives of employers and workers are equipped to discuss the problems of industrial organization and labor stabilization with technical competence can we hope to promote sound and peaceful labor-management relations.

Community Living

HOW education can be geared to the every-day problems of community living will be discussed at a conference of school officials and civic leaders at the junior high school today.

Subjects to be considered at today's meeting will be rural education, the tourist industry, urban-rural relations and soil conservation. Among the speakers will be Lee Thurston, deputy superintendent of public instruction; Victor Knox, Sault Ste. Marie, speaker of the state house of representatives; Phil DeGraff, Trout Lake resort operator; Walter Gries, personnel manager of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, and other industrial and educational leaders.

There is much that the schools can do to to foster community development in various fields by training youth to assume the duties of adult citizenship following graduation. Education always has been the keystone of community life, of course, but in the calling of today's conference there is evidence of the willingness of the schools to get closer to the social and economic problems of a community.

No Poll Taxes

APPARENTLY in total disregard of Michigan's previous unhappy experience with a poll tax, some state legislators are seriously considering a new poll tax to finance the proposed Fair Employments Practice Commission.

By their disdain of the poll tax enacted in 1933, Michigan voters proved their unqualified opposition to this kind of tax legislation. The tax at that time was $2.50 per person and it was designed to finance old age assistance. Only a small percentage of those subject to the tax actually paid it and it was repealed hastily. There certainly is no reason to believe that Michigan residents have changed their minds and that they would accept the tax levy now any more graciously than they did 14 years ago.

The sensible thing to do is to forget about the poll tax as a prospective source of income for the state. It just cannot work.

More Wood Industries

DR. HEREFORD Garland of the research department of the Michigan School of Mining and Technology, who spoke at a recent meeting of the Timber Producers Association of Upper Michigan, emphasized that more extensive study should be made of the uses of aspen, the region's fastest growing timber crop.

The forestry research expert also stressed the apparent need for small dimension plants in connection with the sawmill industry of Upper Michigan, and urged the tying in of research into the utilization of waste products, both from our mills and from present logging operations.

Much of the Upper Peninsula's big timber has been logged off, but forestry experts believe there is no need for shedding crocodile tears over the passing of the white pine era. They believe that by extensive utilization of aspen and other species, the Upper Peninsula forests can still sustain a thriving wood working industry, which will at least maintain the employment level of the lumbering industry in the past.

The Pacific Northwest's lumbering and paper companies have made great strides in the utilization of timber waste and in developing new wood products. With the leftovers, they are making wallboard, laminated beams, and many other useful articles. Under the sponsorship of the Michigan Planning commission, research projects have been launched at Michigan Tech, Michigan State College and the University of Michigan with similar objectives in mind. The work should be given full support and continued as long as there is a need for it.

Other Editorial Comments

APATHETIC
(Marquette Mining Journal)

Returns from this week's five county primary in which Glenn W. Jackson, Gladstone, and Ray Derham, Iron Mountain, were nominated for judge of the 25th judicial circuit show a rather alarming lack of interest in a matter which should be of major public concern.

For a long period preceding the primary all of the five candidates made strenuous effort to generate public interest in the hope of getting out a large vote. They used many columns of advertising in every newspaper in the circuit. They were heard in many radio addresses and appeared as speakers at public rallies and at meetings of clubs and other organizations, but only a small percentage of the registered electors went to the polls.

Dickinson county's vote topped the others, but that can be attributed largely to interest kindled by spirited contests in an Iron Mountain city election. A fairly large vote was polled in Delta county, where interest was whetted to some extent by a proposal to adopt daylight saving time. Iron county's vote was nominal, the result in Menominee was little better and in Marquette county, largest in the circuit, only 5,800 of approximately 25,000 registered voters turned out.

All of which suggests it might be advisable to hold circuit judge primaries in April and finals in November, on the dates of regular state elections. On those days the electorate is vote-minded and the result undoubtedly would be much more satisfactory. It would not mean an additional ballot to confuse the voter. Names of circuit judge candidates could go on the non-partisan ballot with those of candidates for the state supreme court.

"VASE" AGAIN

There is a hackneyed quip to the effect that if it comes from the five-and-ten it's a "vayss." Otherwise, it's a "vahz."

The truth is, however, that "vahz" (or vawz") is a Britticism which they, the British, believe to be the French pronunciation. Vase is a French loan-word; but the French pronunciation is: vazz' rhyming approximately with 'jazz."

The Standard American pronunciation is and always has been: vayss, to rhyme with "case, face." It was the only pronunciation sanctioned by Noah Webster in his original American Dictionary (1828). Moreover, vayss is the first or only choice of all present-day American dictionaries. "Vahz," if it is listed at all, is described as "British."

But the British "vahz" is a relatively recent innovation, vayss (or vaze) was the only pronunciation sanctioned by British dictionaries of Webster's time.

There is additional evidence that vayss was customary and proper in British usage before the turn of the century. Note that 'vayss" rhymes in these verses by noted English poets:

There heroes' wits are kept in ponderous vases,
And beaux in snuffboxes and tweezer cases.
—Pipe (1688-1744)

A pure, transparent, pale, yet radiant face,
Like to a lighted alabaster vase.
—Byron (1788-1824)

Fair dewy roses brush against our faces,
And flowering laurels spring from diamond vases.
—Keats (1795-1821)

Some American dictionaries list "vaze" as second choice. However, it is so seldom heard in Standard American that it may be regarded as being obsolete.

Correct pronunciation: vayss.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Lo, the poor bureaucrat! His fate in these times is a luckless one as government moves toward stalemate, the powers divided between jealous Republicans and suspicious Democrats.

Childs

Moreover, within each party there are divisions just as sharp as those between the two parties. The government official trying to get guidance from Congress must feel at times as though he were fighting his way through a trackless jungle.

Take the case of Wendell Berge, assistant attorney general in charge of the Anti-Trust Division. Berge went to Capitol Hill the other day to appear before the senate committee on civil service.

As all bureaucrats do these days, Berge felt a certain apprehension. His division in the Department of Justice is not likely to find favor with the economizers. The prospect is for a cut in the appropriation for Anti-Trust instead of the small increase that Berge feels is necessary for the work of his division.

But what was his experience when he went before that committee? He was berated by the new Republican chairman, Sen. William Langer of North Dakota, because he had not put anyone in jail for violating the Anti-Trust laws. For the bureaucrat, life is always full of surprises.

Berge tried repeatedly to explain that judges and juries would not, except in unusual cases, apply criminal penalties to business men. Virtually all Anti-Trust actions are civil cases intended to impose fines on corporations and prevent them from repeating monopolistic practices.

Yet Langer persisted. This is a sample of the cross-examination:

Langer, Your section has a suit pending against the tungsten manufacturers?

Berge, that case is being tried right now.

Langer, Those people are buying that at $24 a pound and they got together and raised that to $480 a pound.

Berge, $453, I believe.

Langer, And it cost $24, and not a single living soul went to jail!

Berge, The case is being tried now. I know they will probably not go to jail.

Again and again, Langer came back to this point. He demanded in irate tones to know why men were not being sent to the penitentiary.

Later, the cross-examination turned on the Anti-Trust suit in the motion-picture industry:

Langer, Do you not think, if you put three or four of those fellows in the penitentiary, that would do more to stop it than all of the rest of the things you are talking about?

Berge, I do not know that it would . . . I think you have to go further than just punishment. I think you've got in the movie situation, and in many other situations, a fundamental wrong that has to be remedied. I think that is where we can be most effective in Anti-Trust actions. We have got this suit pending in New York where we are trying to tackle the problem on the national scale and get divestiture of the motion-picture houses from control of the big fellows, so that every motion-picture house will be independent. And that is going to the Supreme Court.

Langer, The Attorney General's office did a marvelous job when they convicted Brown and Bioff, the labor racketeers, and did a lot of good and helped keep union labor racketeers from taking advantage of union members. It is just as logical if you put two or three big movie fellows in the penitentiary for putting little fellows out of business in places like Devil's Lake and Grand Forks. That would also be a deterrent.

Patiently, Berge tried to explain how monopoly control had evolved in the movie industry over a long period of years. It would be wrong, he told Langer, to "assess moral guilt on a few fellows and put them in jail to atone for the economic wrongs of the whole industry."

At times the bystander would have thought that Berge himself was a criminal on trial for his life. Members of the committee seemed to be accusing him of some conspiracy to spend government funds. By an interesting coincidence, Berge had already written out his resignation, effective May 1. Far from desiring to keep his job, he had wanted for a long time to give it up. Conscience had kept him on.

That is true of many able men in government. If they are to be badgered and harried before congressional committees, the result will soon be no government at all. Some members of Congress may want that. But the result is likely to be pretty embarrassing all around.

THE PREPARED SPEECH — The other day in the mail there came a publicity release from the Encyclopedia Britannica which presented, in brief, the life history of George Washington—"first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Dunathan

What struck us as particularly revealing was not the Britannica's squelching of the cherry tree story as "absurd fiction," but its comment that:

"The famous speech of 1796 known as 'Washington's Farewell Address' was actually written, not by Washington, but by Alexander Hamilton, although it was remolded by Washington and expressed his ideas."

So far as we know, it is the first recorded instance in this country of the busy man's dependence upon another in the preparation of a speech to be delivered in public as his own.

• • •

GHOST WRITERS—Not so long ago in a national magazine there was an article "exposing" the length to which ghost writing has gone in this country. Nowadays there are few persons—and some of little or no importance politically or in the business world—who do not have available the services of poorly-paid help to write out what they should say on questions of public interest.

Ghosting has become as much of a profession as dubbing is in the Hollywood world of make-believe—and equally anonymous. The dubbers in the movies are those who substitute another and better voice for the ailing pipes of the stars. The ghost is the hack writer who throws weighty or witty words around for the benefit of the man who is unable to think them up for himself.

• • •

IN THE STATE—We are unfamiliar to a large degree with persons of national importance. But we have met men high in state government circles and know that the majority of them depend upon the ghosts in the public relations or "education" divisions of their departments to write their speeches for them. This is one reason why you will find so many former newspaper men in government public relations positions. They not only know what the public official should say—they know that if it rightly said it will "make news" and hit the headlines.

And the dependence of certain state officials upon their ghost writers is sometimes pathetic. Without his assistance they would have few opinions of their own, and would be at nearly a total loss in expressing the ideas they borrow from others.

The ghost writers are always at the beck and call of their employers. They can whip up something apropos for a League of Lady Vote Getters, or a more weighty thesis for the annual convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Your average politician is stuck in a rut after his pre-election campaign and, if permitted, would go through the rest of his public life saying the same old platitudes—like a phonograph with one record.

AND IN INDUSTRY —It isn't only the politician who leans on the ghost writer. The moguls of industry, from the president down through all the little vice-presidents, have their public relations men who prepare speeches, radio scripts, luncheon talks, policy letters, and communiques to the stockholders.

In all such cases the ghost writer is invited in to a "conference" and there absorbs as much information as he can concerning what the person—or persons—to be quoted should say. Then returning to his desk he snaps the chain around his ankle, starts his cigarette, brain and typewriter and comes out with a masterpiece of prose that sound more like the boss than the boss himself. The boss reads it over, changes the commas around and approves it.

Often these efforts find their way into the national magazines under the name of the industrial big shot, while the ghost writer who composed the thing is forgotten.

• • •

THE HANDOUT—All newspapermen will understand what we mean when we talk about handouts. They are copies of the speeches prepared for delivery by the visiting big shot, and handed out to the newspapers when the big shot comes to town. These talks invariably are prepared by ghost writers and then approved by the men who will deliver them.

And newspaper reporters have heard, not once but many times, the visiting politician approach his ghost writer before a meeting and ask "well Joe, what do we talk about here?" And Joe dutifully reaches into his brief case and brings out the speech, which the orator studies for all of five minutes before he goes before his audience.

• • •

DON'T GET MAD— None of this should disillusion you, for it has been going on for a long time—witness the Britannica reference to Hamilton ghost-writing Washington's "Farewell Address."

And there is the consolation that at least the sentiments expressed by the ghost writer are those of his employer, or perhaps a better word would be "collaborator." Except that in a collaborated effort the ghost writer is recognized for this work. Another way of doing it is to give the employer the by-line and then explain that the story is "as told to" the ghost writer.

Having an anonymous writer sharpen up the written or spoken utterances of famous people has become a national habit. Without such assistance many big bureaucrats and industrial moguls would be extremely reticent. With so many people asking them to say something they need help—and writers must live, too. Don't be flip and ask why.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—During the 1936 Republican convention in Cleveland, GOP bigwigs labored late one night to persuade Senator Arthur Vandenberg to be Alf Landon's vice-presidential running mate.

Pearson

One man who especially wanted Vandenberg to take 2nd place on the ticket was the Chicago Tribune's Colonel Bertie McCormick. He figured that the combination of the Kansas governor and the Michigan Senator would beat even Roosevelt. Vandenberg, however, remained adamant. McCormick's pressure on Vandenberg had been brought entirely through second parties. So, when they failed, he went in to see the Senator himself.

"Colonel," replied Vandenberg, after the Chicago publisher had exhausted all his arguments on why the GOP needed him as vice-president, "Let me ask you just one question. Would you like to be vice-president of anything."

"No," confessed McCormick.

"Well, I wouldn't, either."

That ended the argument. Vandenberg did not run for vice-president in 1936, and it was common gossip that he was waiting for the top billing later— the chance to run for president. Whether this was true or false, some paradoxical things have happened since that evening in Cleveland eleven years ago.

—HISTORY IN REVERSE—

First, Colonel McCormick, who so ardently admired Vandenberg before, now is his most vigorous critic. Relentlessly he carps at the Michigan Senator for deserting his old isolationism and for now helping the State Department keep the world on an even keel.

Second, Vandenberg probably could have the long-coveted presidential nomination in 1948, but seems to be genuinely sincere in stating that he doesn't want it.

Talking to a friend the other day, Van said:

"I can't help remembering what General Marshall told us during the war—that he was constantly afraid his generals would get burnt out. They don't know they're burnt out, he explained, but the constant strain of war eventually catches up with them and they lose their driving power.

"That's the way I feel today—burnt out. I've been going at the same clip ever since Pearl Harbor. And the end of the war only made things worse, for then came the London conference and the Paris conference and finally the United Nations meeting in New York. So I am tired. Besides, by 1948 I'll be too old."

Vandenberg is 64 now, but looks considerably younger. In fact, he looks as if he thrived on work.

Regardless of whether the senior senator from Michigan could or would be president, his colleagues pay tribute to the fact that he has grown with the years. He is more tolerant, more understanding, more broad-minded and has a keen insight into the world of international affairs. Unquestionably Arthur Vandenberg today is the No. 1 statesman on the Republican side of the Senate.

—BRANDEIS AND LILIENTHAL—

There is a striking parallel to the Senate fight against David Lilienthal as atomic energy chairman.

In 1916 Woodrow Wilson named to the Supreme Court a well-known Boston lawyer. Immediate opposition—spoken and whispered—developed in the Senate.

Witnesses before the Senate committee said of this nominee that he was a radical who did not really have the American viewpoint. His parents, it was charged, were born abroad. Furthermore, he was an opponent of the profit-motive economy, a man who believed in setting class against class. His belief in Democracy was questioned.

Although this man had become nationally famous as a successful Boston lawyer and as New England's "public defender," Bostonians testified that he had never been regarded by his fellow townsmen as a "True Bostonian." Witnesses who had crossed swords with him earlier in his career called him lacking in integrity, said his public acts were designed to further his private advancement, that he had been scheming for years to win the Supreme Court appointment.

Outside the Senate, some of the most respected men of the nation were caught up in this hysteria. Among those who spoke against the nominee was a former Republican president of the United States. Others, however, including the very conservative president of Harvard University, were moved to come to the support of the Boston lawyer. After many months of Senate wrangling, he was finally confirmed.

In time, the wisdom of the appointment became apparent to all. In his new Supreme Court position, the Boston lawyer contributed as much as any man of his day to the development of political thought and social progress.

PREDICT SMELT RUNS IN SPRING

Ice Fishermen Netting About 1,500 Pounds Each Day Here

There is no longer any doubt it—the smelt are returning to Green bay in the largest numbers in several years and the 1947 spring spawning runs in Delta county streams are expected to attract thousands of dippers.

It was reported at the Hansen & Jensen Fish market yesterday that production locally has ranged between 1,000 to 2,000 pounds of smelt per day. The first smelt were taken early in the winter just off the lighthouse at Escanaba, and the catches have increased up to the past couple of days.

On the basis of the smelt take here and at other points along the Green bay shore, commercial fisherman predict that the spring spawning runs will come close to duplicating those of the 1930's, when thousands of tons of the little fish were dipped from local streams. Whether any community celebrations will be undertaken such as marked the smelt runs of yesteryear is doubtful. The smelt runs are expected to attract the usual number of visitors, however.

Smelt harvests on Green Bay are vieing for attention this winter with a new phenomena—the appearance of smelt in Lake Superior in large numbers for the first time.

The Wisconsin conservation commission has expressed willingness to permit seining smelt in the Chequamegon bay on Lake Superior, although the area is reserved for sports fishing. Commercial fishermen of Lake Superior, like those in Lake Michigan and Green bay, in the majority consider the smelt a nuisance.

At the present time in Little Bay de Noc the smelt constitute the largest "take." Herring production, which ranged up to a ton or so a day a few weeks ago, is now off; few perch are being taken, and trout also are off. The whitefish take is holding up fairly well.

Cudlip Named Head Of First National At Iron Mountain

Iron Mountain—William J. Cudlip, director of the First National Bank of Iron Mountain for 40 years and vice president for 25 years, actively in that capacity since 1928, was named president of the bank at a directors' meeting yesterday, succeeding the late E. F. Brown, president for 41 years, who died last Jan. 20 at his home in tis city. No other changes were announced by the directors.

Born in Calumet, Mich., Mr. Cudlip came to Iron Mountain in April, 1880, with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cudlip. The family made the trip from Calumet by devious routes, and journeyed the last lap, from Quinnesec, huddied together in a wagon, and over the rough road which was then the only connecting link between the two communities. The railroad had not then been extended to Iron Mountain.

He attended what was formerly known as the old White school, on Brown street, and, during the summers, worked around the Chapin mine. He later went to work in the T. H. Byrnes meat-market, then situated on the site now occupied by the First Presbyterian church. Thereafter he became representative, on the Menominee range, for Morris and company, packers, and traveled the territory for many years in this capacity.

Remained 25 Years

He remained at this work for 25 years, succeeding the late W. H. Laing as manager of the Morris company on the range. In the latter year of this association, also, he combined the managership of the Morris and Armour companies, in the territory.

While still associated with the packing companies, in 1907, Mr. Cudlip was elected a director of the First National Bank, and in 1927 was named vice president. One year later, in 1928, he entered the bank activity, as vice president, and has since remained in this capacity.

In 1901, he married Miss Lou Byrnes. They have three daughters, Mrs. Gordon Aley, of Elgin, Ill.; Mrs. John Garvey, of Milwaukee, whose husband is a widely-known physician and neurologist there, and Mrs. John A. Newkirk, of Elgin, Ill., whose husband, a veteran of service overseas with the Army Medical Corps, is now a resident physician at Hines hospital, Chicago. A son, William B. Cudlip, is a prominent attorney and counsel for the Michigan Bankers Association, in Detroit.

The 7,000 tons of tung oil produced in the United States in 1946 is estimated to be about one-thirtieth of the amount the American paint industry could use.

CONDUCTOR HITS HEAD ON BRIDGE

Walter Taylor Injured In Railroad Mishap At Negaunee

Walter J. Taylor, Lake Shore Drive, was brought to St. Francis hospital from Negaunee Tuesday night after suffering a near fatal accident there early Tuesday evening.

Taylor, a conductor on the C. & N. W., and his crew, after taking a train of empty ore cars to Ishpeming, left Ishpeming, running as an extra train, behind passenger train No. 162, the Iron and Copper Country Express.

At Negaunee, the railroad tracks diverge, all passenger trains making a short turn to stop before the depot, and all freight trains making a wider loop behind the station. Taylor climbed to the top of his caboose at this point in an attempt to locate more readily the position of No. 162, the passenger train.

As the train, composed only of the engine and caboose, went under the Duluth, South Shore overhead bridge, Taylor struck his head against a bridge beam.

Brakemen inside the caboose heard the thud of his fall, pulled the air to stop the train, and found Taylor lying unconscious against the stove pipe on the caboose roof. They flagged the passenger, and Taylor was brought immediately to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

Taylor suffered contusions of his head and a broken nose.

Val Follo Directs Tire Plant In South Africa

A business career which included exciting events in the European war zone and the building of hundreds of fighting planes for the Navy, has climaxed for Valentine Follo in his appointment as general superintendent of a new tire factory in South Africa for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

A graduate of Escanaba high school and University of Michigan Follo was teaching history and English at the Bark River high school when the first World War came along, which carried him off to France with the Corps of Engineers.

The schoolroom looked less attractive when he returned to the states, so he went to Akron in 1919, entering production as a dispatcher, became a department foreman a few years later, in 1929 was made division superintendent of a huge new factory at Gadsden, Ala.

VAL FOLLO

Went To Sweden

In 1938 Follo won his first general superintendency, when he was sent to Sweden to start a new factory in the city of Norrkoping near Stockholm. The fact that Follo's mother was Norwegian, and he was familiar with the Scandinavian speech made it easier for him to fit himself into the new background.

He selected his workmen carefully among the younger more vigorous men who could learn the intricate processes of tire manufacture quickly. However, coming into work one morning the following year, he found the office all but deserted and only 15 men out of 400 factory employees reporting to work.

The World War had broken out and Sweden had mobilized, had called the rest of his employees to the colors. Follo hired in new men and carried on, but with reduced output as the international tension grew and his supply of rubber was all but cut off.

He began sending the American personnel home. His works accountant, needing medical treatment, sailed from Norway just twelve hours before that country was invaded. The first group of wives was sent across Europe, sailed from Genoa just before Italy got into the war. The next group had to travel clear across Siberia, shipped from Vladivostock for Manila via Shanghai taking three months to get home. Follo himself was called back to Akron in the summer of 1942 leaving a skeleton organization in charge.

He sailed on the refugee ship Gripsholm.

Managed Aircraft Plant

The reason for his summons home was that the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation, a subsidiary of the rubber company, had gone extensively into airplane manufacture, and had taken a contract to build 4000 Chance Vought Corsairs for the United States Navy. He was made production superintendent of the largest of the four aircraft plants at Akron, later succeeded to the general superintendency, met the Navy schedules throughout the war.

The new South African plant was one of the company's first reconversion activities, and Follo, selected to head it up, began to pick his organization, and plan for materials and machinery shortly after V-J day, while the new factory was under construction at the town of Uitenhage near Port Elizabeth, South Africa.

Mrs. Follo and their daughter, Shirley, a sophomore at Denison College, Ohio, sailed with him. His older son, Marshall, graduated from Harvard, took his medical degree at Michigan and now, after serving in World War II, is serving his interneship at the University of Michigan, hospital at Ann Arbor.

His second son, Page, who also served in the war, returned to Harvard, will complete his medical studies this year.

Mrs. Follo is the former Emma Anderson of Bark River.

Citrine is topaz quartz. True topaz is a precious stone of great hardness and its color is a deep velvet saffron.

Fin Clipping To Show Percentage Of Planted Trout

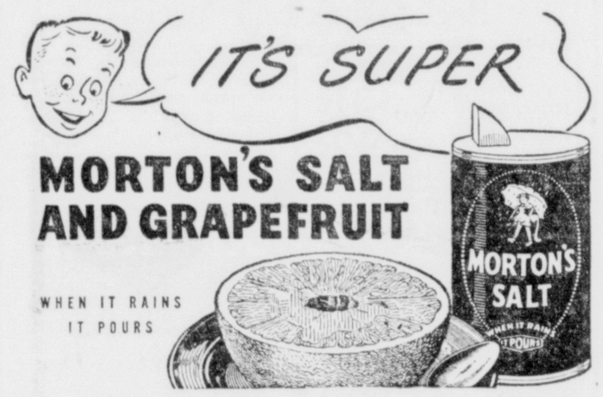

The 1947 trout fishing season will go down in sportsmen's notebooks as the year in which all legal sized planted trout were fin clipped. And if all goes according to plan, Fred Westerman, chief of the conservation department's fish division, believes it may be the only year in which universal fin clipping is needed.

Major purpose of fin clipping all seven-inch trout planted, Westerman says, is to give the man who actually gets out on the lakes and streams a good idea of how much of his catch is coming directly from the hatcheries. He should know this, the fisheries chief believes, before deciding whether he wants more or less money spent on fish stocking of this put-and-take type.

Fishermen taking brook, brown and rainbow trout in the season that begins late in April will be asked to look for the dorsal fin, the big fin on the back, or top, of the fish. If they will keep notes of wild fish that have it, and 1947 plantings that lack it, they will learn the wild-to-hatchery-fish proportion in their own favored fishing spots.

No statewide census of the wild-to-hatchery-fish ratio is planned for this season. Sunday interviewing of anglers on heavily planted sections of three heavily fished test streams in 1946 indicated the proportion of legal sized hatchery fish there at 34 to 43 per cent of the catch. On many miles of smaller streams where plantings are not made, the proportion of wild fish is believed much larger.

Fin clipping of trout for this season's plantings already has begun. The department's legal sized planting goal for the year is a full million trout. Clipping so many fish is a difficult and expensive job, and is attended by some losses—as high as three per cent in some cases. Fisheries men hope one season of it will be enough to acquaint all anglers with the facts.

HAMMER KILLER ADMITS CRIME

Wife, Beaten To Death After Argument In Milan Home

Monroe, Mich., Feb. 20 (AP)—A Milan, Mich., foundry worker today confessed the hammer slaying of his 18 year old wife, Sheriff Ray Gensler reported.

Gensler said a first degree murder charge would be sought against Joseph Canedo, 37, whose wife, Anna, was found beaten to death in their Milan home early last Sunday.

Under questioning by state police, sheriff's officers and Assistant Prosecutor Edward McCormick, Gensler said, Canedo admitted striking his wife on the head with a hammer Saturday night after a drinking party and subsequent argument.

The sheriff quoted Canedo as saying he washed the hammer and put it away, then threw his bloody clothes into the furnace and went down town.

Authorities said the confession followed closely the finding of bloodstains under Canedo's fingernails.

The foundry worker previously had maintained that he left his wife, mother of two children, in good spirits when he went down town. Several hours later, he said, he returned home and found her dead in bed.

Canedo underwent a lie detector test Wednesday but Gensler reported the results were inconclusive. He has been held without charge for questioning since the slaying.

Canedo served a prison term for statutory rape several years ago and married on his release.

HOUSE SLICES SPENDING BY 239 - 159 VOTE

the controversy, noting that congressional action still is incomplete.

This House-Senate battle may end in a $5,000,000,000 compromise under which Senator Taft (R-Ohio.) contends a 20 per cent cut still will be possible.

The Democratic leader, former Speaker Rayburn of Texas, told the House the $6,000,000,000 slash would take large funds from the Army and Navy and help push reluctant millions of people abroad "into the arms of Communism."

Inefficiency Charged

He told the Republicans they might "rue this day" in the presidential campaign of 1948.

Rep. Engel (R-Mich.), chairman of the Army appropriations subcommittee declared that if General Eisenhower and Admiral Nimitz cannot run the Army and Navy efficiently on less money they "ought to step aside and give someone else a chance."

Unmoved by Democratic cries of "gag" and "czarist rule," the Republicans won their first victory early in the day when they forced through, on a 229 to 173 vote, a ban on the presentation of any amendments from the floor. This vote followed party lines, with Rep. Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) the only member to cross over. He voted with the Republicans.

Chairman Taper (R-N. Y.) of the 102 - member House-Senate budget committee that recommended the $6,000,000,000 cut told the House:

"There must be next year an elimination of the inefficiency and the waste that wartime habits have inculcated in the Army and Navy; there must be an elimination of unnecessary activities* * *"

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House "We can cut the $6,000,000,000 recommended by the joint legislative budget committee without in any way jeopardizing our national defense or interfering with any essential function of government."

PARTY LINES PREVAIL

Washington, Feb. 20. (AP) — A party line split showed today in the vote of Michigan congressmen on a resolution to slash $6,000,000,000 from President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget which passed in the House, 239 to 159.

Michigan Republicans voting for the measure included Bennett, Blackney, Bradley, Coffin, Dondero, Engel, Hoffman, Jonkman, Michener, Shafer, Wolcott and Youngblood. Two other Republicans, Woodruff and Crawford, were paired in support of the proposal.

Voting against the resolution were Dingell, Lesinski and Sadowski, all Democrats.

Write-In Nominees To Go On Ballots For April Election

Lansing, Feb. 20 (AP)—"Write-in" candidates at Monday's nonpartisan judicial election must be placed on the April 7 ballot under the same rules governing partisan elections, Attorney General Eugene F. Black declared today.

In reply to requests from election officials on the procedure of handling "write-in" candidates in judicial contests, Black said by constitutional provision, boards of canvassers must certify to the ballot "the candidates with the largest number of votes to a number equal to twice the number" of positions sought.

He said that after the candidates whose names have been printed on the ballot are certified the boards must add the "write-in" candidates who have the largest number of votes until there are two candidates for each office.

Taxi Driver Slain As Bystander In Waukesha Triangle

Waukesha, Wis., Feb. 20 (AP)—A 55-year-old taxicab driver was shot to death today and he was described by Dist. Atty. Homer Williams as the "innocent bystander" of a shooting involving a "triangle."

Williams said Omar Crabtree, 32, would be arraigned on a charge of second degree murder tomorrow in connection with the death of the cab driver, Robert Shanklin. He said Crabtree had made a statement admitting the shooting.

The prosecutor said the fatal bullet apparently was intended for a passenger in the cab, Ignatius Snyder, 34. Both Snyder and Crabtree had been "dating" Mrs. Avis Price, 33, Williams said.

Crabtree was waiting in front of Mrs. Price's home when she and Snyder alighted from the cab and Crabtree fired as the taxi drove away, he continued. Shanklin, struck in the temple, collapsed at the wheel and the cab skidded into a snowbank, Williams said.

Second Cub Squad Leaves For Avalon

Chicago, Feb. 20 (AP)—A second squad of Chicago Cub players, infielders and outfielders, headed by Coach Billy Judges, left tonight to join their mates at the Avalon, Calif., training camp.

The group included Capt. Phil Cavarretta, Bill Nicholson, Dominic Dallessandro, Eddie Waitkus, Len Merullo, Andy Pafko and Bob Sturgeon, all members of the 1946 team, and rookies Ace Parker and Henry Schenz.

STATE SENATE GETS BILL TO CURB LOBBIES

"I wouldn't want to be the one to say which student should be denied an education," he declared.

Senator Arthur E. Wood, Detroit Republican, contended the grant for aid to dependent children was too high, asserting "more than half of these kids could be adopted out and save the state this money."

Bishop retorted the state shouldn't expect a "widowed mother" to place her children out for adoption to save the state money.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. M. RASPOR

Funeral Rites Saturday Morning At All Saints

Mrs. Mary Raspor, 52, wife of Matt Raspor, Kipling, passed away yesterday morning at St. Francis hospital where she had been taken the day previous. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Raspor was born in Bosiljevo, Yugo Slavia, on July 4, 1894. She came to the United States and Kipling in 1913 and had been a resident there since.

She was a member of the Croatian Fraternal Union Society Lodge No. 656, of Kipling.

Surviving are the widower, Matt; two sons, Joseph and Anthony, all of Kipling; a sister, Mrs. Mike Gaus of Kipling and another sister in the homeland.

The body was removed to the Kelley Funeral Home and this noon will be returned to the family home to lie in state until the hour of last rites.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at a requiem mass in All Saints' Catholic church, the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood cemetery.

TO MARK WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

A World Day of Prayer service is to be held in the Mission Covenant church this afternoon at 3 o'clock with women of the First Lutheran, First Baptist, Memorial Methodist, Bethel Free and Mission Covenant churches participating.

Representing the First Lutheran church will be Mrs. Clifford Peterson and Mrs. George Stecker; the First Baptist, Mrs. Otto Goodman; the Memorial Methodist, Mrs. Glenn Kjellberg and Mrs. E. C. Perkins and the Mission church Mrs. Milton Hendrickson.

There will be vocal selections by the Girls' Ensemble of Gladstone high and by Irving Johns, director of music in the public schools. Mrs. John M. Olson will be the organist.

This service, an annual observance through worldwide Protestantism, emphasizes the basic unity of the racial, economic, national and religious groups of the world, and has come to be a significant day in the church year. It is sponsored by the United Council of Church Women, and this year has as its theme "Make Level in the Desert a Highway for Our God."

The offering supports migrant work, and the eight Union Christian Colleges in India, China and Japan through the Home Missions Council. All women of the community may attend.

STOLEN AUTO IN CALIFORNIA

Several weeks ago Russell Clark of Escanaba turned over his 1946 sedan to a washrack employe who was to take it to his place of employment and wash the car. When the car was not returned a check-up revealed both the auto and the employe were missing.

First trace of the auto came this week when the sheriff of San Bernardino, Calif., notified Michigan State Police here that the auto was abandoned in a garage at Colton, Calif. It had been placed in the garage for motor repairs and never called for.

A picture of the suspect, who is reported to have a prison record, has been forwarded to the San Bernardino sheriff.

Mr. Clark has been advised that his auto has been found.

TRY YOUTHS IN CIRCUIT COURT

One Of Quartet Demands Examination, Denies His Guilt

Louis Brunette, Jr., Jim Beauchamp and Dwight Arnesen were arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice of Peace O. C. Estenson on charges of burglary and car theft. A fourth youth, a minor, will probably be dealt with by the juvenile court.

Brunette and Beauchamp pleaded guilty and were bound over to circuit court. Bond was set at $500 on each count or $1,000 for each of the men. Arnesen pleaded not guilty and demanded preliminary examination.

Brunette and Beauchamp and the minor youth, whose name is not revealed, admitted stealing Wilfred Royer's auto and driving to Escanaba. After abandoning the machine on North Tenth they entered the Rialto Bowling alleys taking a quantity of candy, cigars, cigarettes and change. A key to the front door, belonging to Mrs. Jerome Trombly, wife of the proprietor, was used in gaining entrance. Beauchamp said he found the key in the bowling alleys.

Although all three implicated Arnesen in the crimes and have accused him in front of officers, he steadfastly maintains his innocense.

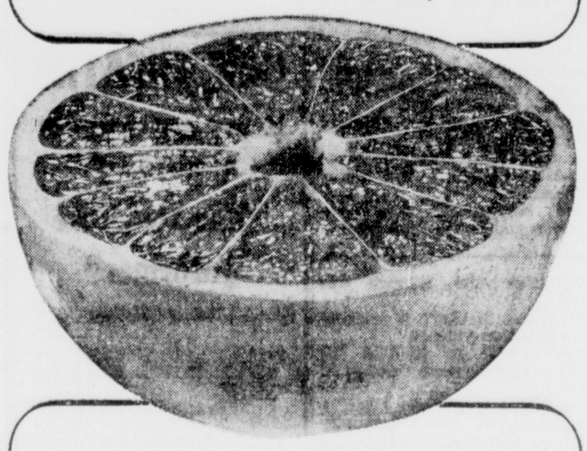

"Rented the first day" said Smith

TWO ACCIDENTS --TWO TICKETS

Car And Truck Badly Smashed In Two Mishaps

Two motor mishaps, occurring within the city limits, within a few hours of each other, resulted in wrecked vehicles and summons in justice court for the drivers.

Shirley Boursaw, of Seney, was treated for a broken nose at the Shaw hospital Wednesday afternoon, having sustained the injury when the logging truck he was driving left the road and turned over. The accident occurred in Highway 2 in front of the Secore cabins at the east edge of the city. Slippery paving at that point is believed to have been the cause of the mishap.

State patrolmen, investigating the accident, found that Boursaw had no chauffeur's license and he was given a ticket to answer the summons in court.

The other mishap occurred about 1:45 Thursday morning on Deer street, when a car driven by Richard McClinchy, of Nahma Junction, crashed into a northbound Manistique & Lake Superior freight train. Jerard Menary, of Nahma, was with him at the time.

According to McClinchy, he did not see the train until it was too late. Becoming aware of the presence of the train he tried to apply the brakes and swerve to the side, but ice along the side of the road and the sidewalk made attempts to stop futile and the car crashed into the seventh car of the train. The two escaped injury but the front of the car was badly smashed.

In justice court, McClinchy pleaded guilty to a charge of not having his car under proper control and was fined $10 along with $5 costs.

LOCAL BOXER MAKING GOOD

Stars And Stripes Has Writeup About His Ability

Delore "Pinky" Weber, whose genial pink-pated personality outside of the ring and savage mauling inside of it, made him a general favorite at last year's Golden Gloves and other fistic encounters is going places along this same line in Uncle Sam's army.

A recent issue of the Stars and Stripes printed a picture of him along with a very favorable account of his ability in boxing circles in the army. Pinky is with the army stationed in Italy.

The following is a reprint of the article in the Stars and Stripes:

"The Verdi Theater in Gorizia Monday night was the scene of seven Italy Division boxing bouts sponsored in conjunction with the Blue Devil March of Dimes program.

"Pinky Weber of the 350th took the second bout by a TKO from George Bahensky, another division artillery slugger.

"The bout was about even during the first two rounds with each boy continually jabbing and trying to work his opponent into a corner.

"Weber came out of his corner like a flash in the third round and showered Bahensky with head and body punches. Bahensky was floored and while he wasn't unconscious, he found it impossible to regain his feet, and a technical knockout went to Weber.

"Pvt. Weber is another newcomer in the wirst of Blue Devil ringmen. He developed an interest in boxing and decided to join the regimental boxing team. Pinky comes from Manistique, Michigan. He's big and husky and has the right type of build for boxing. He is five feet, nine inches tall and weighs about 158 pounds. Although he's somewhat slow, Pinky makes up for it by using a two fisted whirlwind attack which bids fair to make mincemeat of anyone caught in its path."

Mrs. Swingle has received word that her sister, Mrs. Peter Eckman, formerly Mrs. Sherman Arrowood of this city, is critically ill in the hospital in St. Cloud, Minn.

Fire At Hewitt Grocery Wednesday

An overheated stove is blamed for a fire that occurred Wednesday afternoon at the garage where the company trucks are kept. Beaver board covering on the walls took fire in back of the stove and in a matter of seconds the flames swept to the ceilinbg. The fire, however, was confined to the wall and was put out with a fire extinguisher before the fire department arrived on the scene. Besides the fire loss to the wall board, the damage was nominal.

Organized Baseball In Escanaba Considered; Meeting on Wednesday

Tentative plans for the formation of an Upper Peninsula Class C league in organized baseball were discussed Wednesday night at a meeting of local baseball enthusiasts at the Daily Press editorial rooms, at which time it was decided to call a general meeting of baseball fans and local business men at the city hall council chambers next Wednesday night, February 27.

Clinton Hodges, who operated a club at Ogdensburg, N. Y., in the Border league last summer, attended the meeting and outlined ways and means of developing organized baseball in the Upper Peninsula. He reported that Sault Ste. Marie, Marinette-Menominee, Iron Mountain, and Marquette were definitely interested in the plan and with Escanaba and one other club yet to be selected a six-team league could be formed.

The clubs would play daily from mid-May to Labor Day, comprising a schedule of about 120 games each. The league would play twilight games under the schedule proposed by Hodges, starting at about 6:15 each night. Sunday games, however, would be played in the afternoon.

Hodges, who plans to operate a club at Soo, Mich., and Soo, Ontario, declared that organized baseball would prove very successful in the Upper Peninsula. He declared that the cities are large enough to support the teams, pointing out that teams in organized baseball now are being operated in many cities throughout the country that are no larger than the major cities in the Upper Peninsula.

Hodges reported that each of the clubs could be adequately launched on an initial budget of less than $5,000. He predicted that few games would draw less than 300 fans and that most of the games would draw from 500 to 1,500 paid attendance.

The veteran baseball man emphasized that the problem of securing good playing talent is a minor one, declaring that many players could be developed locally under a capable manager, preferably a former big league or Class A league player. Others could be secured from other areas at nominal salaries, Hodges said, because these youngsters are primarily interested in getting a start in organized baseball and are looking for a chance to move up the ladder.

The entire proposition will be expanded at greater length next Wednesday night at the council chambers, at which time Mr. Holges will be present to explain the situation and to answer questions. All persons in the community interested in the formation of a league in organized baseball are invited to attend.

ESKYMOS PLAY AT MANISTIQUE

Locals Strive To End 10-Game Losing Streak

The Eskymos basketball team will travel to Manistique this afternoon where they will meet the Emeralds of Manistique high school tonight in another attempt to halt their 10-game losing streak. The reserve teams of the two schools will play the preliminary game.

Inability to cash in on scoring opportunities has cost the Eskymos several defeats this season and Coach Rouman is still seeking without too much success in finding a scoring combination that will click.

Gustafson will start at center tonight, with Lough and Dean at forwards, and Pryal and Hirn at guards. Ready for standby duty will be Cota, center; Johnson, Buckland, Schils and Abrahamson.

This will be the final away from home game of the regular season for the Eskymos, who conclude their schedule in home games with Kingsford and Gladstone. They will be back to Manistique in March for the district tournament, however.

The Escanaba reserves starting lineup against the Manistique reserves will be Harold Pearson, lf; Dale Jackson, rf; Jim Holt, c; Harold O'Connell, lg; Ray O'Seen, rg. Don Carlson, Smith, Freidgen, Sundquist and Millette also will make the trip with the reserves.

BRAVES HIT ROAD AGAIN

Gladstone High Cagers Play Graveraets At Marquette Tonight

Gladstone.—The Gladstone high school Braves will travel to Marquette to play the Graveraets in the first of the final three games on the local schedule.

Forming the lineup of the locals probably will be Capt. Kee, Gillis, Valind, Pearson and Richards with Madden, Young, Anderson, Marmilick and Williamson in reserve.

Stephenson Dumps Hermansville, 50-42

Hermansville high school had two bad periods in a basketball battle on their home floor last night, and despite a fourth quarter rally they bowed to Stephenson, 50 and 42. Stephenson kept up a steady offensive, and forged ahead after on even first half. The Stephenson shooting was led by Peterson, 6 foot, 3 inch sophomore center, who collected 22 points. His feat was equalled by Pieropon, Hermansville scoring ace, but Peterson had the assistance of Sandin, Stephenson forward, who added 14 points to the winning total. A big crowd saw the game.

For The MAN

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The baseball ambition of every city is to get a club in organized baseball, playing a daily schedule under the rules and protection of the National Association of Professional leagues. To Escanabans it was just a dream for visionaries, far removed from the realities of the situation. That was before Clinton Hodges, of Victoria, B. C., hit town Wednesday. Hodges is trying to develop an Upper Peninsula Class C league of organized baseball. He paints a picture of optimism and confidence to a degree that makes local baseball men wonder how come organized baseball never came to the Upper Peninsula sooner.

* * *

Hodges is convinced beyond all doubt that organized baseball would prove instantly successful in the Upper Peninsula. Moreover, he tells how it can be accomplished on a reasonable scale, how it can be financed, how the talent is secured and how the league operates to the benefit of the area it serves. Anyone with an open mind who talks to Hodges for an hour on the possibility of developing an organized baseball league in the Upper Peninsula will surely be convinced that it can be done. In fact, Hodges is so sold on the prospects that he desires to operate the club at Sault Ste. Marie. That, in reality, is his reason for devoting the time and effort necessary to organize the league.

* * *

There are many, many organized baseball leagues around the country operating successfully in communities much smaller than Escanaba or the other cities of the Upper Peninsula. What they are doing year after year flatly removes cause for skepticism that it cannot be done in the 15,000 population cities of the Upper Peninsula. Baseball clubs are operating successfully in communities as small as 2,000 population: The Blue Ridge league, a four-team circuit, does not have a single city over 5,000 population. It is not an isolated case, as the records of organized minor leagues so vividly prove.

* * *

Hodges outlined his plan to a small group of local baseball enthusiasts Wednesday night at the Daily Press news room. He will elaborate on it at a mass meeting at the Escanaba city hall council chambers next Wednesday, Feb. 26, at which all persons in the community interested in baseball are invited to attend. Organized baseball is good business for a community. It establishes the city as a wide-awake community. It provides wholesome, truly American entertainment. It provides great opportunities for youth seeking a career in baseball. And, of course, it brings in considerable money to the town over the season.

* * *

Baseball fans who read in the papers about the fantastic salaries paid to some of the big leaguers are prone to get an erroneous idea of what it costs to operate a team in organized baseball. The minor leagues, of course, are the feeders for the majors and ball players in the Class C and Class D leagues are interested primarily in getting a start. Salaries are necessarily low. In fact the league limit for salaries is $1800 per month. Each club carries 14 players, usually including the player manager.

Escanaba Hawks Get First Defeat From Marquette Loans

The Escanaba Hawks took their first licking of the season last night at the Indoor Ice Rink when the Liberty Loans hockey team of Marquette set them back 4-3.

Getting off to a slow start, the Hawks scored only once in the first period, an unassisted netting by "Babs" Petaja.

Marquette scored twice.

The second period was scoreless for both teams. But in the opening of the third, Marquette scored twice in quick succession giving them a 4-1 lead.

An Escanaba drive led by Dan Belanger was just a little belated. Belanger drove the puck for a score, and Govermac came through with one — but that wasn't quite enough to overcome the Marquette lead.

The Hawks will hold a general practice session Friday night at the indoor rink at 8:30. Manager Robert Grabowski wants all members present.

DELTA LEAGUE

The struggle for top place continues to be close with four teams tied for first place in the Delta bowling league. Bark River Lions lost undisputed possession of first place by losing two games to the Kiwanis No. 2 team, while Northwest Fruit, Rotary and Kiwanis No. 1 each won two games from their opponents. Only three games in the win column separate the four top teams from the two bottom teams. Northwest Fruit rolled an 895 game and a 2458 series for top honors for the evening. Bennett of Kiwanis No. 2 continued his pace setting bowling by rolling a 199 single and a 550 series for high individual scores. Escanaba Lions nearly made a triplicate for the evening by rolling games of 745, 744 and 744. They needed that extra pin in the first game to beat the Rotary's 744.

Big Rookie Hartung Pleases Giant Boss

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 20 (AP)—Clint Hartung, fabulous rookie of the New York Giants, participated in batting practice for the first time today and Giant Manager Mel Ott was pleased at what he saw.

The big Texan apparently is a line-drive hitter rather than a home run belter and has the ability to hit to either side of the field.

Hartung is listed as an outfielder but he also has done some pitching and probably will be in the lineup in Sunday's "scrub" game, which will be limited to pitchers only.

FORGETS HIS PANTS

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—It was very embarrassing to Aaron Garcia.

The lightweight boxer bounced into a Golden Gloves ring last night. He went to his corner after receiving instructions in the center of the ring.

The three-second bell rang and Garcia started removing his robe. He almost collapsed—he'd forgotten his pants.

CONSIDER WAR MEMORIAL HERE

Legion To Hear Report On Proposed Project Monday

Munising — A War Memorial committee of the Roderick Prato Post No. 131, American Legion, of Munising, headed by Charles Hebert, will present plans for a proposed memorial to Alger county war veterans at a regular meeting of the Legion post Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The committee, formed by the Legion sometime ago, has dug up a lot of facts and figures on financing the memorial and has prepared a detailed report to put before the Legion members for discussion.

Gerald Paveglio, representative off an Upper Peninsula memorial concern, has been contacted by the committee and will be present at the meeting Monday to discuss types and costs of various memorials for the Legion members consideration, Mr. Hebert stated.

Other members of the Legion committee are: C. F. Beaulieu and Ed Swan.

Tentative plans of the committee, the chairman said, calls for financing of the project by public subscription.

All Legion members are urged to be present at the meeting Monday.

City Clears Area At Elm and Jewel For Auto Parking

Munising—To alleviate the traffic congestion on Elm avenue and Jewel streets near the high school, Presbyterian and Sacred Heart churches, during the Lenten season and high school basketball games, Police Chief Urban Trombly reports snow will be removed from the Sacred Heart playground, corner of Elm avenue and Jewel street, and drivers will be permitted to use the area as a parking space for their cars during the night hours.

During the day, the cleared playground area will be used for its normal function as a playground for school children, the chief said. The parking privilege will only pertain to hours after 6 p. m. Overnight parking in the area will be forbidden, he stated.

Clearing of the playground by the city will help the parking situation near the Sacred Heart and Presbyterian churches as well as the school. In the past, cars have had to park on both sides of the street in that locality when activities were scheduled at the school or in either of the churches and with snow banks narrowing the streets, the parking situation developed into a traffic hazard, Trombley said.

With the playground being utilized as a parking area this hazard will be eliminated almost entirely, the chief stated.

Snow removal at the playground was started Thursday.
